While Representative of Wholesale Diamond Company Was Attending Theatre Thieves Enter Room and Steal Valuable Stones, Leaving No Trace As To Their Identity.

(By Associated Press.)

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 29.—Diamonds said to be valued between $50,000 and $60,000 were stolen last night by thieves, who entered a hotel room here occupied by Charles Mednikow, representative of a wholesale diamond company at Memphis, Tennessee. The robbery was discovered by Mednikow when he returned from the theatre.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE DIRECTED INQUIRY INTO NORTH DAKOTA RATES

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Acting on telegrams received from Governor Nestos, of North Dakota, and other citizens of that state, President Calvin Coolidge directed the Interstate Commerce Commission today to make special inquiry into allegations of increased freight rates on coal mined in North Dakota, which it is claimed amounted to a conspiracy to destroy the state's coal mining industry.

BODY GALVESTON MAN FOUND BY HUNTERS MISSING SINCE MON.

Crossman's automobile and clothing was found by a dog at San Luis Pass at the western end of Galveston Island on Tuesday. The body was found yesterday by hunters.

AGGIES LOSE ON KYLE FIELD FOR THE FIRST TIME TO TEXAS LONGHORNS

(By Jinx Tucker Waco News-Tribune Staff.)

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 30.—The big orange flag fluttered higher in the November twilight Thursday than any Texas university flag has ever waved since that bleak November afternoon just three years ago. For this afternoon while thousands upon thousands of frenzied followers of the Orange urged them on, the University of Texas team, goaded on to desperate measures by four futile attempts to shake the defensive rampart of the Texas Aggies on Kyle field took advantage of an earlier error by Clem Pinson, substitute for King Gill, and scored the only touchdown of the game, one of the most precious touchdowns in the athletic annals of the University of Texas. The final score was 6 to 0.

Score Does Not Describe.

But that final score does not describe the intensity of the struggle. It does not describe the sensational, as well as surprising, defense of the Longhorns, the first Orange warriors brought to College Station by Doc Stewart. For when it is all said and done, it was the superior defense of the Steers that placed the laurel wreath of victory upon their brows. The fine club representing the University of Texas, was that stubborn, unyielding defense, which made the Texas 48-yard line the deadline of the day for the Farmers; that brought to Doc Stewart the realization of his great ambition of the year. It was that fast charging line, super end play and a brilliant secondary defense, that stopped the Aggie cut-back plays and brought victory to the fighting Longhorns despite the wonderful fight of the Texas A. and M. team; despite that wonderful Aggie spirit, which was typified by the Aggies of 1923 today just as it has been typified by all Aggie teams on Thanksgiving day since Bible has been in charge.

All Played Brilliantly.

In a struggle in which many players fought cleverly and courageously it is difficult to find one outstanding, conspicuous performer. All played brilliantly. The work of the Aggie team, though it was roundly outplayed so far as yardage gained was concerned, is nevertheless not to be minimized. Big Oscar Eckhardt, one of the greatest backs that the Austin institution has produced in years, closed his football career in a blaze of glory. Big Oscar did not gain as much Thursday as usual. More often he was stopped without any gain whatsoever, but his human steamroller was a marked man. He was endeavoring to cross the front line of perhaps one of the greatest and best coached defensive machines in the south.

He was partially stopped in that first half. He was almost completely smothered in the second half, yet as a marked man, gained more ground than any player on the field. And to Eckhardt must go the greatest credit for the only score of the game. It was Eckhardt's high spiral which carried a distance of over 50 yards that caused the young but gritty Clem Pinson to make the error which gave Texas university its most precious victory over Texas A. and M. since 1911.

It was on the twelfth play of the game that the turning point of the contest came. It was on this play about the middle of the first quarter that Texas won the contest. Standing on his own 35-yard line, Eckhardt punted high and far to Clem Pinson, who was playing the safety position. The lad appeared a bit nervous as big Joe Ward came swooping down upon him. He was under the oval, but the old pigskin slid through his arms on the 10-yard line. Both Ward and Pinson dived for the oval. It seemed that Pinson had it, but again it slid from his arms and rolled across the line. With both Pinson and Ward lying on the mud-smeared turf, Tynes, Texas university captain pounced upon the pigskin, and the shrill whistle of Joe Ramp announced that Texas university scored a touchdown on Kyle field for the first time in the gridiron history of the state.

Victory Assured.

A fluke touchdown it was, but a touchdown nevertheless, and that one play assured a victory, for from that moment on the Longhorns fought as they have never fought before on the College Station gridiron. Fought with a determination that knew no other than victory. It cannot be said that the Orange warriors outfought the maroon clad sons of Texas A. and M., but they fought as the Aggies have always fought and to Texas university fans of the new football era that was an innovation, if not a revelation.

Johnson, a Sensation.

Bull Johnson, captain and inspiration of the Texas Aggies, fighting and scrapping in his demoniacal fashion was the sensation of the Aggie defense early in the game. For the length of time he was in the game, he perhaps made more tackles than any other player on the field but with a dislocated knee. He fought those who endeavored to take him him out, but grieving pitilessly he was finally carried from the field as Aggie enthusiasts shuddered at what might happen with Johnson gone. But Irwin who replaced the Farmer captain played a creditable game, and though numerous slashes were made off the left side with Johnson gone, the Orange warriors were always turned back when they became dangerous. Back into the game limped Johnson, the very personification of gameness in the last quarter. If the Aggies were destined to go down the first time on Kyle field against Texas university, he was desirous of going down with them and such came to pass. Though the Aggie team played as a team inspired when Johnson returned to the lineup Johnson was still a star on the end, the Aggies could not circle or dart through that splendid Texas defense, and the forward passing attack of the Aggies, if it could be termed an attack was little short of pitiful. Only one came even close to being completed and Evans missed that one.

Foiled in their end running game, foiled in their thrusts through the line, foiled in their aerial attack, all the Aggies could do was punt, and hope for a break which never came, but on one occasion, and on that occasion Texas won the game. Hoping against hope that Robertson would drop one of the punts propped by Fay Wilson, a swarm of Aggies went down the field on the kicks, but as a whole the punting of Wilson was poor. Though he was perhaps the running star of the game for the Aggies, if the work of any of the Aggie backs along this line twinkled, he proved the poorest punter ever seen in exhibition at Kyle field.

Brailley Star.

Big Oscar Eckhardt had a big edge in the punting duel. Nearly all of his kicks were high. He had lots of time to get them off and he

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN W. S. HOUSTON HERE SEEKING VIOLATIONS

(From Friday's Daily.)

W. S. Houston, deputy game warden over six counties including Brazos, was here Thursday looking for violations of the game laws. He conferred with Sheriff L. E. Morehead and prominent citizens over appointing a local deputy for the enforcement of the game laws. Mr. Houston said that the game, fish and oyster commission under W. W. Boyd at Austin finds itself with considerable money this biennium for the enforcement of the game laws and that they will attempt to do some work as well toward educating the people, including hunters, to the value of proper enforcement of game laws. Mr. Houston made the point that if unrestricted hunting, in season and out, is permitted to go on, that sportsmen will destroy the very animals which should be permitted to propagate and supply them with hunting later. Mr. Houston explained that his department has only the good of the people in mind and does not mean to be unnecessarily harsh in any instance. He asks the co-operation of all persons in his district in the enforcement of the laws, particularly by supplying him with necessary information as to violations. He says he will be glad to receive reports either confidential or otherwise.

ST. CLAIR ALTAR SOCIETY NET $200 ON BAZAAR SALE

(From Friday's Daily.)

The St. Clair Altar Society of St. Joseph's church which held a bazaar in the Parker-Astin warehouse on Bryan street Wednesday and Thursday scored a great success, clearing in the two-day sale something over $200. This money will go toward a fund to build a needed addition to the St. Joseph's parochial school.

got a much better distance than

Wilson, who was rushed several times and who was also handicapped by the very mediocre passing of Crack Duboise, the Aggie center, who was punished considerably by Bralley, who played a star game for the Longhorns.

Eckhardt 'Big Bertha'

"Big Bertha" Eckhardt, was the star of the fray. The Longhorns also presented a number of other lads deserving of prominent mention. There were the two ends playing as they have never played before this season. There was Burns at tackle, who substituted for the brilliant but injured Bluestein, and played the place as Bluestein would have played it, which by the way is saying considerable.

There was Jim Marley, McKinney youth, loving referred to by the Texas university fans as "Gentleman Jim", who was by far the outstanding line plunger of the game. When a short gain was needed for a first down, the honor of making that down was always entrusted to the pride of McKinley. Time and again he slipped and careened off the Aggie left side for substantial yardage.

On the 5-Yard Line.

Only once did this McKinney youth fail in his objective, and that was in the second quarter when on a sustained drive the Longhorns carried the oval to the Aggies' 5-yard line. There even the stout-hearted Marley could not crash or drive through.

There the unrelenting fury of the Aggies turned back Marley not once but twice, and then stopped Captain Tynes one yard from the Aggie goal, it was one of the few sensational moments of the rugged game.

Although the Longhorns were credited with 10 first downs, 10 highly deserved first downs, they could not gain when a gain meant a touchdown. Not one of the 10 first downs was converted into a score.

Aggies Never Loose.

Fleet backs of both teams were often behind the line of scrimmage and never did one of the Aggie stars emerge into a broken field. The first two downs were made deep in the Aggie territory.

The game in a way closely resembled the contest on the same field in 1921 though the Texas fight was far more conspicuous Thursday afternoon.

The right side of the Aggie line was the stronger Thursday. That side guarded by Evans, Dancy and Forgassan was superior to the left side guarded by Johnson, Waugh and Puny Wilson, though the entire Aggie line played splendid football.

Evans and Dancy Star.

Evans turned in another splendid game for the Aggies, while Norman Dancy playing his first game against Texas was a star all the way, in fact, all of the tackles, Dancy and Ward, Burns and Waugh played brilliant defensive football. And there was nothing the matter with the work of Slim Knickerbocker Aggie quarter today. He played his best game of the season today until he was carried from the field in the last quarter with an injured leg.

Knickerbocker Stops Passes.

It was Knickerbocker who halted two Longhorn drives by intercepting passes and on the first he came dangerously near getting away and his generalship was much better

MAR. MANSFIELD PICTURE STAR BURNED DEATH

STAR IN MANY PICTURES

(By Associated Press.) SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 29.—Martha Mansfield, motion picture star, died here at noon today as a result of burns received while filming a picture at Breckenridge Park Thanksgiving Day. She received burns when the flimsy dress she was wearing became ignited.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Neal Jr. of Houston will spend the week-end in Bryan as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Haley.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Wilson and son Parker of Taylor will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Held for the football game.

Mrs. Ida Japhet of Houston is here for a visit to her sister, Miss Elsie Wiprecht and brother Walter Wiprecht.

Miss Urcelle Battle of Alvin is the guest of Mrs. Parker Carroll for Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Cynthia Ruth Hayden and Miss Wynifred McShane of Fort Worth are week-end visitors of Miss Mamie Lee Hayden.

Alonso Edwards of Abilene is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Egan.

than expected. He did not play the safety position. That honor was conferred upon young Clem Pinson, and tonight that youngster's face is suffused with tears as he endeavors to shoulder the entire blame for the loss.

Pinson Retrieves.

But the boy in defeat showed that he had the fighting football heart. After fumbling that punt which cost his team the touchdown, he stayed in there, received all of the punts there after without a bobble. A game lad is this boy Pinson. He played the game, made an error, which is likely to be made by any youngster, but it is hardly fair for him to be charged with the loss. Had the Aggies been able to do anything with the Longhorn defense had they been able to crash with that stonewall constructed by Stewart and Seddon, his bobble would have been forgotten.

It was a heart-breaking error, 'tis true, but again we say the Texas defense against the plays put on by Bible won the game for the Steers. The Longhorns won the game today in a manner similar to the method the Aggie used to put over the one touchdown victory in 1919. Like the Aggies of that year, Stewart did not make a substitution today. Like the Aggies of 1919, The Longhorns took advantage of an early break, scored a touchdown, and then not only outplayed the Aggies for the balance of the game, but kept the Farmers so far away from the Orange goal, that they never even offered a serious threat of a score. For the first three quarters, the shifty Aggie backs, slipping and sliding over the slick turf, failed to negotiate a first down. Their two first downs came in the final period.

The Game Over.

The last shrill whistle of referee Ramp announced the close of the Berserker but the close of a typical Aggie-Longhorn gridiron clash. But it was a strange scene, indeed, for old Kyle field. It was the first time that the old field had witnessed such a scene. It was the first time that the old field had witnessed a myriad of orange banners and colors waving on high across the mud besmeared gridiron following a final whistle.

For the Longhorns were a joyful lot following the bitterly contested struggle. They received considerably half for their many defeats here early in the first quarter when the Steers scored on Kyle field for the first time, but when the score was turned into a victory their cup of joy was complete. Coach Stewart and the Longhorns players, orange blankets and all, were lifted high on the shoulders of the stark mad orange crowd and carried from the field. But the cadets in defeat did not forget. They were perhaps grieved at heart, but never did they forget their sportsmanship. The Aggies, who fought, and gave their all for victory only to achieve heart-rending defeat, were also lifted to the shoulders of the khaki-clad throng despite the fact that the crestfallen players attempted to fight their followers off, and were carried to the clubhouse.

It was a great battle between two well coached teams, two sportsmanlike elevens, and it can be truthfully said despite the reams of post mortems that will be heaped upon the press, that the better team won.

GRIMES COUNTY YET BUILDING ROADWAYS

(From Navasota Examiner)

NAVASOTA, Tex., Nov. 23.—Two more district road bond elections have been ordered by the County Commissioners' Court both of which will be held on December 22nd. It will be remembered that last Monday the court ordered an election held in the Singleton road district on December 22nd on a proposed bond issue of $80,000. Petitions were presented from the Bedias and Iola districts at the same time, but on account of the fact that the district lines as set out in the petitions overlapped, these two petitions were withdrawn and revised, after which they and both of them have now been ordered for December 22nd, making a total of three district bond issues that will be voted on in the county on that date.

The Iola district, which submitted a petition bearing 84 signatures proposed to issue $200,000 in good road bonds. The Bedias district, with a petition bearing 59 signatures, asked that an election be held on a proposed bond issue of $175,000 for building good roads in that precinct.

FIRST ANNUAL DRIVE ON SOIL BETTERMENT BY COLLEGE WORKERS

(By Tom Q. Williams)

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 22.—The first annual drive for soil improvement was conducted by the Extension Service of the College in co-operation with the Southern Farmer's Association of Atlanta and Shreveport the past week in twelve counties of the northeastern part of the State. This first drive will be followed by a second to be conducted in the southeastern part of the State and begin on December 10.

The specific purposes of these campaigns is to bring to the attention of the farmer the necessities of improving Texas soil, which in the words of one of the agents, has been "skinned" by the one-crop system of farming. In this connection the importance of leguminous plants in supplying nitrogen for the ground and of commercial fertilizers is being considered. The terracing of hilly land and the drainage of low lying farms is another of the important points with which the campaign deals. Meetings are held out in the fields with the farmers so that demonstration may be more effectively carried out.

Two Groups of Workers.

Work of the past week was done by two groups of workers. Group No. 1 operating in the northern section of the eastern territory was headed by J. E. Stanford, district agent of the Extension Service, assisted by E. A. Miller, agronomist and sweet potato expert, and M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer. The far eastern group was directed by J. C. Pridmore, agronomist of the soil improvement committee of the Atlanta, Ga. The following counties were covered by the groups: Lamar, Fannin, Hunt, Kaufman, Van Zandt, Henderson, Cass, Marion, Morris, Upshur, Wood and Franklin.

A. W. Buchanan, district agent, will direct the next campaign, which will take in the southeastern counties. He will co-operate with G. W. Orms, district agent, and D. D. Long of Atlanta, Georgia. Counties to be reached in this later campaign include: Shelby, San Augustine, Newton, Jasper, Tyler, Trinity, Polk, San Jacinto, Montgomery and Grimes.

WEALTHY HOUSTON WIDOW DIES IN COLLISION AFTER KILLING HICKMAN

Mrs. Fuller at Wheel of Auto Kills Pedestrian and Three Minutes Later Veered Head-On Into Street Car—She Died Within a Few Minutes After the Collision.

((Special to the Eagle))

HOUSTON, Nov. 29.—Fred Hickman, aged 38, was instantly killed here last night when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. C. O. Fuller, wealthy Houston widow. About three minutes after Mrs. Fuller had struck Hickman she drove her machine head on into a street car, and was almost instantly killed herself. The first tragedy occurred about 8:25 p. m. The victim was attempting to cross the boulevard, which was heavy with Thanksgiving traffic. Apparently he did not see the Dodge car bearing down upon him. The man was knocked roughly 25 feet and into the curbing, upon which his head struck. The automobile-street car crash occurred at Eastwood Gate. More than two-score pedestrians and autoists were transfixed as the woman, her nerveless hands tugging futile fashion at the steering wheel, veered head-on into the street car. She was dead when spectators rushed to extricate her from the wreckage.

MRS. NIZE OF IOLA DIES BRYAN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Ike Mize, of Iola, Grimes county, who has been so seriously ill at the Bryan Hospital for the past several weeks, passed away Wednesday, November 28th at 6 p. m. The remains were shipped Wednesday night to her home at Iola, for interment. The funeral was conducted from her late residence on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Mize was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sullock of Iola, and is survived by her parents, several brothers and sisters. Her husband, was at her bedside during the long days and nights when her spirit hung as on a thread between life and death and survives her, and four children, one an infant only a few weeks old. Deceased was about thirty years of age, a noble Christian, a devoted wife and mother. Many friends extend sincere sympathy to the bereaved in their dark hour of grief and sorrow. E. F. Parks and Co. undertakers prepared the body for burial and shipment to Iola.

D. C. VICK'S MOTHER DIES IN ALBUQUERQUE

(From Thursday's Daily.) D. C. Vick received a message this morning from Albuquerque, New Mexico, that his mother, Mrs. L. M. Polk, age about 90 years, had just died. Mrs. Polk resided in Bryan at the home on College road now occupied by Rev. J. J. Pipkin prior to going to Albuquerque about 15 years ago. Mr. Vick was instructed to have funeral arrangements made here, but owing to the great distance nothing definite as to the exact time can be announced for the present.

Mrs. Lucile Beasley and children of San Antonio are guests of Miss Mary Jessie Stone and Miss Grace Bowman. Mrs. Beasley formerly lived in Bryan and friends are extending cordial greetings.

Report comes that Mrs. H. H. Prager who is quite sick in Bryan Hospital is convalescing. This will be good news to her many friends.

OUTSTANDING FEATURE OF ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON WAS OVATION FOR BIBLE AND HIS INVINCIBLE AGGIES

The outstanding feature of the Rotarian luncheon Wednesday was a continuous ovation for Coach D. X. Bible and the invincible "Aggies." The setting of this ovation was very appropriate. The management of the Green Parrot Tea Room had the A. and M. colors on display and the Rotarians, with their guests, were seated four to each table over the spacious dining hall. The program opened by S. M. Bird leading Doxology, immediately followed with the Aggie War Song "Goodbye to Texas" and citizen of Bryan at College Station at the North Gate Wednesday evening where they would be met by the A. and M. band and parade up and down Military Walk and show our loyalty to the great A. and M. team. This was unanimously voted upon by every Rotarian standing and agreeing to go, and to wear his fez and arm-band. The luncheon was brought to an end by the singing of "Taps" and as the members passed out of the hall, they joined in singing, "Good-bye to Texas as University." Rotarians present were: W. S. Barron, C. L. Beason, C. S. Beckwith, D. X. Bible, S. M. Bird, Wilson Bradley, J. F. Casey, Gabe Cazell, W. J. Coulter, W. B. Cline, S. E. Eberstadt, W. R. Fairman, J. M. Fountain, E. J. Fountain, H. C. Fugham, Chas. Greisser, Madison Hall, Kay Halsell, Tyler Haswell, E. P. Humbert, T. K. Lawrence, W. H. Lawrence, J. W. Payne, E. E. McAdams, Oak McKenzie, J. T. S. Park, David Reid, C. C. Todd, M. E. Wallace, H. H. Williamson, D. D. Wilson, Jno. M. Lawrence Jr., D. D. University, after which Fairleigh's orchestra rendered many appropriate selections.

Fortune Teller For Aggies.

A regular program had been previously arranged, but the enthusiasm for the Aggies was at such a high pitch that everything was "side tracked" and all fell in line with the A. and M. spirit. The Rotarians had heard of Lige Thompson having his fortune told in Fort Worth, and as luck would have it, Lige passed the Green Parrot; was invited in to tell the story of this fortune, which is about as follows: That Lige was in Fort Worth to buy a carload of mules; that the salesman persuaded him to call on a certain fortune teller; that she truthfully told him his age, his occupation and other things that he would not mention, and asked if he desired further information, to which he replied that he wanted to know the result of Thursday's game at College Station. To make a long story short, she told him that the Aggies would win 6-0. Lige was highly cheered and set up to a cigar and asked to remain for the meal.

Coach Bible Speaks.

The Rotarians, however, wanted

HOW PARCEL POST MAY BE SEALED YET TAKE FOURTH CLASS RATE

(From Friday's Daily)

Parcel post packages (merchandise) may be sealed under certain conditions, says Postmaster Marvin F. Carroll. Persons who have merchandise to mail which does not contain any writing may seal these packages with adhesive paper tape or in a similar manner, he explained, and yet pay only the usual parcel post rate for a sticker of the proper kind to place on the package. These stickers bear the printed declaration that the contents of the package are merchandise, only, (hence, fourth-class matter) but may be opened for postal inspection if necessary. The postmaster pointed out that packages sealed in the permitted manner will be more securely done up than if tied and hence more likely to get through the crush of Christmas mail in good condition. He explained also that letters accompanying parcel post packages may be pasted on the front side of the package which they are to accompany, provided both letter and package carry their own postage and the amount required for their weight and class of mail.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Townes of Houston and Mrs. Allen Hatch and little son of Mexia arrived today and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moore.

A. B. Welch of Minter Springs is here today.

THANKSGIVING

"And one of them when he saw that he was healed turned back and with a loud voice glorified God and fell down on his face at his feet, giving Him thanks and he was a Samaritan and Jesus answering said, 'Where were there not ten cleansed, but where are the nine?' There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger." The above quotation taken from St. Luke the 17th chapter is written today that the thought of Thanksgiving may be brought to your minds.

Cleansed from a living death, brought back from a living grave, only ten per cent returned to thank the Giver. Rescued from the most awful and frightful thing that could happen to man, and without price, only ten per cent gave thanks. And the one that did return thanks was a stranger, far from the race of the Healer, almost an enemy of the Giver, yet he alone of the ten remained to thank.

What a terrible picture, you say, but "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone" at the nine.

We cry aloud, day after day, "Give us." Forgive us. "Lead us not." With a loud voice we proclaim our needs, we ask without hesitancy and ask again and again, but how many return to thank? This is the question of the day. God in His infinite wisdom has said, "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your father?" God has promised us all we need yet in our fear and doubting we call upon Him hourly for our most trivial desires and this in spite of His promise, and yet how many return to thank? This is the question of the day, of the hour, of the word.

Thanksgiving day has been set apart by as noble a band of followers that Christ has had. It is true they were not martyrs all, but the spirit was willing, should God call. The year had been a terrible one, suffering and privation had been the lot of everyone and yet the meager harvest at their disposal, these historic men set aside a day in which to thank God for His blessings.

Let each of us today count our blessings and the list is long; a bountiful harvest with excellent prices and a splendid market, health and absence from pain, peace while the rest of the world is in sorrow and above and beyond all life itself, for life means a chance. Just think of it. A chance for all that we wish to do, for all that we can do, a chance to live and to do. What a host of blessings! Are we thankful? The answer is unanimously "yes" but do we express it to the Giver of all good things? Have we expressed it? Are you one of the nine? If so, now is the acceptable time, this is the day of opportunity. In a loud voice, raising both heart and mind to the foot of the throne, let each and every citizen of Bryan give thanks to Him from whom all blessings flow. This is the day. This is the hour. This is the time.

PAY BILLS PROMPTLY

The first of another month is near at hand and the merchants will appreciate your paying your bills promptly. If you pay them as promptly as they delivered the goods when you ordered them they will be much pleased. Thirty-day credit is given as a convenience to buyers because, unfortunately, few of us keep ahead of our expenses. Nearly all of us find credit, which staves off the necessity for paying bills until one or more pay days at the office or shop have come, a mighty convenience. It is hardly fair, therefore, to impose on the merchants who have extended us this credit by letting the first of the month slip into the realm of history before we meet these obligations. Few folks intend to beat their bills, but a large number of perfectly reliable but slow-pay customers can send a merchant to the wall just as effectively as can a smaller number of non-payers. Let those of us who are in the slow-paying class get out of it. It is the only fair way.

A NEGRO'S PRAYER

"O, Lawd, give thy servant this morning the eyes of the eagle and the wisdom of the owl, connect his soul with the gospel telephone in the central skies, illuminate his brow with the sun of heaven. Pizen his mind with the love for de people, turpentine his imagination, grease his lips with possum oil, loosen his tongue with the sledge hammer of Thy power, 'lectricity his brain wif de lightning' of de Lord, put petual motion in his ahhms, fill him plum full of de dynamite of Glory, 'noint him all over wid de kerosene oil of dy salvation and sot him on fire, Amen."—Rotary Letter.

FIVE-CHURCH REVIVAL

The co-operation of five churches has been enlisted in the union religious revival to be held here next spring, according to Rev. W. N. Sholl. The churches which will co-operate are: Baptists, Methodists, Free Baptists, Christians and Presbyterians. J. Earnest Thacker of Norfolk, Va., a Presbyterian evangelist, will be in charge of the services.

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." If that be your motto, it is a good one, and we are willing to predict that success will be your reward if you continue to practice these principles.

HONOR THE HOMEMAKER

Former President Harding once said the greatest single industry in the United States is the American home in which twenty million women toil. He was right. And the greatest single industry—the American home—also produces the highest class product of all the industries in the land. From it come the workers and the leaders, without which all the complicated machinery and industrial systems must remain as still as death and as unproductive as the barnacles which encrust ship's bottoms. In spite of this, house-keeping is not classed by the Census Bureau as a "gainful occupation." But any man who has an im-provident wife knows that there is no hope that his income will ever overtake her outgo. Conversely, no man with a regular income is ever so poor that a good wife cannot manage to make ends meet for him. But the greatest work of a wife is not what she does for the family in material ways. The wife who has a proper conception of her duties imparts to the home an air of contentment and cheerfulness which is in itself incapable of being measured in dollars and cents.

HELPING TO EDUCATE

Who was that talking about "man's inhumanity to man," and saying the world and everything was going wrong? We would like to tell them a few things we know being done right here in Bryan that make us to know "God's in His heaven and all's right with the world!" The Woman's auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church has adopted a young girl in the Itasca school for orphans whose entire expense bill they are footing while she gets an education. The Young Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church is doing a like work with a young boy in the Methodist Orphan's Home at Waco; the Rotary Club of Bryan is assisting several struggling young boys with their student loan fund through A. and M. College and countless numbers of similar things are being done. And just the other day Milton S. Hershey, the candy manufacturer, put his sixty million dollar fortune in trust for the Hershey industrial school in Pennsylvania to help little toddlers who can't help themselves. Such things as this, helping a penniless chap to get an education in the "when-I-was-a-boy days" was unheard of. And yet there are people who say the world is all bad now.

TREAT VISITORS RIGHT

Many persons in Bryan on Thanksgiving Day will be subject to the temptation to charge more than the normal price for what they have to sell when the great demand created by the 15,000 visitors expected in our midst on that day reaches its height. To do so would be a short-sighted policy which we cannot afford to adopt. Thanksgiving Day every other year is the only day which Bryan really gets on the map and we cannot afford to spoil the good impression we might make by displaying a spirit of unfairness on that day. If we are going to stay in the running as a progressive town, and a place worth living in we must deport ourselves as other towns do. Take, for illustration, the town of Denton when the Texas Press Association met there two years ago. Instead of taking undue advantage of the influx of visitors for the two or three days Denton provided every one of them with free lodging and the Chamber of Commerce made arrangement with the merchants so

FARM BUREAU SUCCESS

The announcement on Friday that the Texas Farm Bureau has nearly five million dollars to distribute to its members in advance of the actual sale of the bulk of their cotton ends credence to the apparently growing belief that the experimental stage of the organization is past and that it is taking its place among the solidly established business institutions. Indeed, it appears that it has from the first been regarded by the financiers of the East as a good risk for it has secured from such sources larger loans at lower rates of interest than any other institution or organization which has come to our attention. The farm bureau movement based on a plan by many considered ideal and actively opposed by few has apparently demonstrated its workability and it is to be hoped that no great error of judgment in the future will mar the usefulness of an organization for which there is so great a need.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

Since the death of Lee J. Rountree, Mrs. Rountree has assumed charge of the Bryan Daily Eagle, and is making a success, as was predicted when she took charge. Mrs. Rountree was elected president of the Eagle Printing Company at a recent meeting of the board of directors. She also has the distinction of being the first woman in the United States to be elected on the board of directors of a chamber of commerce.—The Linotype News, New Orleans, La.

NEW BANK CLOCK

The City National Bank is to be commended for the erection of the artistic and useful clock on its corner at Main and 26th. There is no other clock within sight of the greater portion of the business section and one was needed for the convenience of the public. But in addition to the usefulness of the clock, the soft tones of its Westminster chimes will constitute a pleasing contrast with discordant street noises.

that no editor was permitted to spend one cent while there in buying small articles such as cigarettes, cigars, newspapers, shoes, shoe shines and so on through the list of small wants travelers have. Denton is a school town and a place about the size of Bryan. If Denton could refuse to let her visitors spend any money we certainly cannot afford to charge any of them more for what they buy than the regular price.

WEST TEXAS WANTED BIZZELL

While the people of Bryan and College feel pleased that West Texas should think so much of President W. B. Bizzell that they wish to take him away from us, as was indicated by the news of Wednesday, prior to the election of Dr. Paul W. Horn, we want it understood that we value his services just as highly as West Texas and are not at all willing to give him up. We do not feel that Senator Bledsoe was guilty of any exaggeration when he spoke of Dr. Bizzell as one of the greatest men in Texas and even in the United States. But it is his very bigness that makes us want to keep him. While Dr. Bizzell must have felt pleased at the recognition of his worth that was accorded by West Texas we can not see, looking at the matter from his standpoint as well as we can, what attraction the offer could have had for him. There are something like a thousand young men who have graduated under him, possibly five thousand who have known him while they were students at A. and M., and several thousand other ex-students who have not the privilege of knowing him personally but do know of the great work he has done at A. and M., who would have been much grieved to see him leave the college so dear to them and to him. It was at A. and M. College that he chiefly gained his fame, and his usefulness and increased celebrity are assured so long as he continues with that institution. To accept the Texas Tech presidency would have meant that he would have had to build a university from the ground up and very nearly, as far as he is concerned, start life over again in middle life. We join his thousands of admirers and well-wishers in rejoicing that he did not accept the presidency even though it be true, as report has it, that it was offered to him.

TRY HOME STORES FIRST

How would you like to be compelled to put in an order for medical services by mail or even by wire every time you needed it? Not much, of course. But your home grocer and clothing man or other merchant gives you on-the-spot service just as truly as your local doctor does. The reason why folks do not ever order medical services by mail but often do order groceries or clothing by this method is that they cannot afford to wait such slow medical service but can afford to wait for their clothes or even their groceries. But the grocer and the clothier are entitled to some loyalty from home folks, themselves, for they put in the whole of their working hours serving you just as truly as your doctor does. There are also selfish reasons why you should trade at home. If every citizen trades with the local clothier or grocer, that clothier or grocer will thereby be enabled to lay in a wider range of goods and to sell them cheaper. Try your home merchant first. If he does not have what you want, give him a chance to order by wire the article you desire. He will gladly pay the wire in order to make the sale and get the goods to you quicker than you could get them yourself, certainly if you used the common method ordering by mail.

LIFT—DON'T LEAN!

Dr. W. C. James, in speaking before the Rotary Club last Wednesday, quoted a poem written by Ella Wheeler Wilcox in which the point is made that the world consists of just two classes of people—the lifters and the leaners. So far as community progress goes this is a very proper classification. Too many of us are content to sit back in ease and enjoy the benefits of better education, better roads, better conveniences in the city and in the home, better entertainments and better churches which the efforts of a comparatively few of our neighbors have brought to pass. All of us are willing to enjoy these things but few of us are willing to work for them as well. All of us are willing to take a day off on Armistice Day, for example, to enjoy the liberties and privileges of American citizenship and the pleasures within reach of Americans, but none of us had sufficient interest in paying due homage to those who made it possible for us to retain these privileges and pleasures to promote a general public recognition of their sacrifices. There are too many leaners and too few lifters among us. Let's more of us get into the lifting class and make Bryan noted for its public-spiritedness.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty, or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration and whose memory a benediction.—Besle A. Stanley.

AS IT SEEMS TO US

All excess brings its own punishment, even here—by certain fixed settled and established laws of Him, who is the God of Nature, excess of every kind destroys that constitution which temperance would preserve. The debauchee offers up his body in a living sacrifice to sin.—Colton.

We never heard better logic from any strong captain of industry than this from a young, successful business woman: "The one thing any girl needs to learn if she wants to succeed in the business world is don't grumble, work—work hard, and be glad to do it."

Modesty is the conscience of the body.—Balzac.

Necessity is the mother of invention.—Farquhar.

BRYAN IN RECOGNITION OF FAITHFUL SERVICE RENDERED BY DR. BIZZELL

Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce took recognition of the faithful service rendered by Dr. W. B. Bizzell to A. and M. College and the State of Texas by special resolution directing the president to appoint a committee of five to draft resolutions on same and present them to Dr. Bizzell in person.

Directors in regular session at 10 o'clock met with the following present: W. H. Cole, J. E. Covey, E. J. Fountain, Mayor Tyler Haswell, F. L. Henderson, M. L. Parker, Jno M. Lawrence, T. K. Lawrence, Oak McKenzie, E. E. McAdams, Major L. L. McInnis, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree. In the absence of President J. M. Gordon, First Vice President E. E. McAdams presided. J. E. Covey, chairman of the special road committee reported that he had inspected the Benchley road and found that the bad place near the R. H. Seale home had been fixed and was now in good condition, and that the county's teams and crew were now at work on the Ferguson crossing road and bridge and would be completed in a few days.

Coulter Claim Settled.
Special committee on W. J. Coulter wagon yard claim reported recommending that Mr. Coulter be paid $67.37. Motion carried that report be adopted and secretary issue voucher for said amount in full of all claims. Secretary Eberstadt reported for advertising and soliciting committee that in the past week the committee had refused endorsement for advertising to the amount of $500; said advertising having no merit that would justify an endorsement.

FIRE-PROOF PAPER

Mayor Tyler Haswell has in his possession a copy of "Fire and Water Engineering," for November, received by C. E. Jenkins, the cover of which is said to be absolutely fire-resistant. An explanation on the front cover says the paper has been treated with a recently discovered fluid which has rendered it capable of being charred and incapable of spreading flame. The magazine points out that this fluid constitutes a great advance in fire-fighting methods.

John Conn, the state-aid inspector, has visited all the schools of Brazos county asking for state aid and has expressed himself as well pleased with most of the conditions as he found them. Some of the communities, however, had failed to do the things he recommended when he was here two years ago. As a result he is not recommending that the state give them aid now. Trustees of the state-aid schools will please see to the things he has requested and he will help them.—D. J. McDonald, County Superintendent of Schools.

BRYAN IS ON TRIAL

A serious situation confronts A. and M. College in its effort to entertain the 15,000 visitors who are expected to be here for the Thanksgiving game. A large portion of the crowd will find it necessary to stay overnight here or at College and accommodations for only a portion has been found. It developed from statements of Major Ike Ashburn, Secretary S. E. Eberstadt and Secretary W. H. Matthews, on whom the burden of finding housing accommodations has chiefly fallen that not more than half a dozen homes in Bryan have been thrown open to visitors other than personal friends of the families concerned. Can we of Bryan afford to let this go out as a true representation of the "Bryan spirit" of which we are so proud? We cannot. Rather than see any of these, our visitors, spend the night in the parks, we can better afford to adopt the attitude expressed by W. S. Barron at the Rotary Club when he said he would sleep in his kitchen if necessary in order to do his part toward providing rooms for these visitors. Thanksgiving Day will place Bryan on trial before the people of the state. What will our answer be?

"The most profitable form of advertising is to be found in straightforward North American use of newspaper space," said Arthur W. Hawks Jr., advertising manager of the Consolidated Gas, Electric Light and Power Company of Baltimore in an address before the American Gas Association.

BLUE HUE DINNER FOR CHURCH OFFICERS TO NITE AT HOTEL BRYAN

The regular monthly inspirational meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon in the church, and was well attended by the members of the different circles. A very interesting program had been arranged by the president, Mrs. John K. Parker, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Miller Explains.
At the opening of the meeting, Mr. Miller, local director of the educational campaign now being launched by the Bryan Presbyterians, was asked to meet with the ladies and outline to them the plan of organization. Mr. Evans besides being county agent is also secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Sulphur Springs and is one of the few men in the state who has been able to successfully carry on in co-operation the interests of the farmers and the business man. This is as it should be for certainly their interests are common as are their problems. The success of the one means the success of the other.

DIRECTOR WALTON ADDRESSES GREAT CROWD AT TABOR MEETING

(Special to the Daily Eagle).
TABOR, Nov. 24.—Following an interesting Thanksgiving program, made up of music, the reading of President Coolidge's Thanksgiving proclamation, the story of Thanksgiving among the several countries T. O. Walton, director of the Extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas, last night spoke to a large and appreciative audience, first calling attention to the appropriateness of a Thanksgiving program for a people who had been so wonderfully blessed as we have been, and then, in his usual characteristic and forceful manner, enumerated some of the fundamental principles that should actuate us and guide us in our endeavor to follow the path of progress. He expressed his appreciation of meeting with a people who were trying to do something rather than merely waiting for something to turn up, or who were lending encouragement to pessimism in any of its present-day forms of expression.

Director Walton declared that every forward step which had been made in the world's history had been the result of individual influence given in its utmost for the cause of progress, and that community organization was the most conducive to the greatest efficiency, not only for the individual, but also for the community as a whole. He stated that whether the problem of the people was one of schools, better roads, more attractive and comfortable homes, productive farms, or better churches, community organization would serve good purposes in the solution of one or all of such problems.

In the introduction of Mr. Walton he was referred to as a man who had not been born with a silver spoon in his mouth, but who was reared in God's open country, enjoyed and endured life on the farm, catching at an early age an inspiration for service to his fellow man, and with the inspiration, a vision of a better agriculture for the people of the country, and that with such training and fitness he is today a man of wise counsel and a safe leader.

The members of the boys' and girls' club enjoyed several exciting apple races after which new officers of the club were elected for the ensuing year, installation of said officers to take place at a later date.

BEST MOTOR ROUTE SAN ANTONIO-BRYAN

Inquiries have reached Bryan as to the best route for persons to take who wish to motor to Bryan from San Antonio to witness the Thanksgiving game. Auto men here suggest two routes. The one recommended is as follows: San Antonio, to Austin, Round Rock, Georgetown, Granger, Bartlett, Little River, Rogers, Cameron, Hearne to Bryan. This is said to be the most direct route and the roads are reported good. A second route suggested is: San Antonio to Austin, Taylor, Cameron, Hearne to Bryan.

BRYAN CHURCHES TO HAVE UNION REVIVAL

All of Bryan and Brazos county will be interested in knowing that five of Bryan's most representative churches, the Methodist, Free Baptist, Christian and Presbyterian, through their governing boards have voted to officially unite in the union religious meetings to be held in Bryan in the spring of 1924 by Dr. J. Earnest Thacker of Norfolk, Va. While officially connected with the Southern Presbyterian church, Dr. Thacker has held many union meetings in all parts of the South, and his evangelistic work is conducted on the very broadest and highest plane. He is a man of pleasing personality, and excels as an attractive evangelistic preacher, and though free of all sensational methods, he universally wins favor with the people of all denominations. It is expected that within a short time the laymen of the different churches represented in this special effort will band themselves together in order to make more thorough preparation for the meetings and to deepen the spirit of religious life in our community co-operating with the pastors to bring a great spiritual blessing to Bryan and the surrounding community. More extended and specific information concerning the meetings will be given at a later time.

BRYAN AND COLLEGE PEOPLE OFF TO SEE SHRINE MEET

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY MEETS SOCIAL WORKER

The Methodist Woman's Missionary Society of College met with Mrs. S. B. Bailey Monday afternoon. Mrs. C. C. Whitfield, conference superintendent of social service for south-western Missouri missionary societies, was a guest of this meeting. Mrs. Whitfield gave a most interesting and inspiring report of the Institute for Social Service Superintendents west of the Mississippi, which she had just attended at Dallas, Texas. This institute was for the purpose of studying the interracial relationship, and was attended not only by social service superintendents, but also by many prominent negro women, among whom was the wife of Booker T. Washington. Many of these women made interesting talks on this very vital subject.

The lesson for the afternoon from the book "The Debt Eternal" which is being studied by this group of women, was given in a very interesting manner by Mrs. J. R. McKee and Mrs. G. P. Grout.

HIGHWAY MARKERS TO BE PLACED ON ROADS BEGINNING IN 1924

In addition to taking over the maintenance of all state highways on January 1, 1924, the State Highway Department will also take over the marking of all state highways, under the direct supervision of the 16 district engineers, according to a recent announcement by Capt. J. D. Fauntleroy, state highway engineer. These road signs will be simple in design and will merely inform the traveler of the essential things such as direction at cross roads and distance between points. Road markers designating the highway numbers will also be erected. The State Highway Department will finance the placing of these markers.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK HANDLES 100 BILLION

During the last ten days the First National Bank has received and delivered to several of its customers as souvenirs and for advertising purposes one hundred billion German marks. Everything from 1-mark pieces to a fifty million-mark piece has been handled. It is interesting to notice that the cost of these pieces of paper money is governed by the number of pieces. A million in one-mark pieces costs several times what one one-million mark piece costs. In other words, in buying German marks you pay for stationery and printing.

METHODIST MISSION BEING CONSTRUCTED

COL. TODD OBJECTS TO RECENT ASSERTION AS TO COST OF WARS

In a recent address to the Corps of Cadets many statements were made which permit a disagreement with reference to statements as to facts of the best policy to pursue which would require an extended discussion to refute. However, the following statement of fact was made: "Eighty-five percent of our National budget is spent for past and future wars."

I desire to submit to the people of this community the following reply to that statement as quoted from an address made by the Secretary of War at Los Angeles, California, on May 21, 1923: "The real reason of the budget proves that but 13.5 per cent of the Federal budget is for present national defense and only 32.7 per cent for purposes relating to past wars as well as present defense, including pensions, insurance and similar items. One can not condemn to severely the tactics of those who thus seek to mislead the American public concerning such a vital matter as national defense." C. C. TODD, Col., Inf., (D. O. L.), P. M. S. & T.

COOK IS SENTENCED TO FOURTEEN YEARS

(By Associated Press).
FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 22.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explorer and oil man, was found guilty by a federal court jury this afternoon of embezzling the mails to defraud in the proving the mails to companies. He was found guilty on 12 of the counts of indictment against him. The jury was out 20 hours. Cox drew eight years and $8,000.

Cook was nine months in federal prison and fined $12,000. Guilty verdicts were returned also against all but one of the other defendants, though S. E. J. Cox was found guilty on eight of the counts.

Judge Adolph Cook.

Here is what Judge Killits told him: "Well, Cook, what have you to say for yourself? You at last have reached a point where your hypnotic personality will do you no good. First, we had Annanias and the twentieth century produced Frederick A. Cook. This deal was so damned crooked that the men who defended you must have had to hold handkerchiefs to their noses. Undoubtedly you have hidden your ill-gotten gains. Right now you have money belonging to the poor people of this country. Why only yesterday a Texas woman wrote me that she had given you her last penny because of your literature and that she is going blind and has nothing."

"Oh, God, Cook! Haven't you any decency? Are you haunted at night? Can you sleep? The best satisfaction I have is that I know I am voicing the sentiment of the people of Texas. It is foolish of me to talk as it doesn't sting you."

The Cook case has been on trial here for five weeks and three days, the longest ever held in Texas. Cook was head of the Petroleum Producers' Association, which the Government charged sold stock to the amount of $1,600,000, had but very little property and engaged in insignificant oil operations.

Miss Icy Goen of Tabor was a visitor here today.

STAMPED PAPER MAIL EXCEPTIONALLY HEAVY

The stamped papers sale at the Bryan post office for August, September and October, 1923, were heavier than for October, November and December of 1922, these latter being considered the banner months for any year. At this ratio of increase it is assured that the latter months for 1923 will surpass any previous record of business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stallings of the Alexander community were in Bryan Saturday.

WESTMINSTER CHIMES TO STEAL OVER STREETS FROM BANK CLOCK

The City National bank has erected a magnificent illuminated clock in front of its banking house. The time piece has 4 large dials facing as many different directions, and will not only add materially to the appearance of the busiest section of the city, but will prove to be a great convenience to the general public. The most distinctive feature of the clock, other than its unusually artistic appearance and the perfection of its construction and mechanism, is the complete set of Westminster chimes with which it is equipped. These ring every quarter hour and may be heard practically as far as the clock may be seen. The big clocks are operated by electricity from a master clock inside the building, in the main banking room. This is an especially handsome structure of Mahogany and plate glass construction, with a 12-inch dial, and guaranteed to keep practically perfect time. Every minute the hands of the big clocks are sent ahead one minute by electricity governed by the master clock within, the connection between the two instruments being perfect and insuring correct time on the large clocks on the outside as well as on the master clock inside. The clock is attached to the front of the bank building at a sufficient elevation to be plainly visible from all parts of the street. The clock is 10 feet 5 inches in height by 2 feet 9 inches square, of dark bronze with copper hood at top and bottom. All faces of the clock are alike. The fronts of each being of white oyster glass with the letters in maroon making a beautiful combination of A. and M. colors. The dial being surmounted by the words City National bank in large illuminated letters. The dials of the clock are 24 inches in diameter, of pearl art glass.

CHIMES INTERESTING

The officers of the bank offer the following explanation of the beautiful Westminster chimes consisting of five tubular chime bells, with which the clock is equipped, giving interesting information regarding the chimes themselves as well as explaining the objects which have prompted the bank to offer the public the many advantages to be derived and enjoyed from this beautiful clock.

"As a home institution serving the people of this locality—enjoying your good will and business favor, we have in the past endeavored to show our appreciation by presenting our patrons with calendars and novelties and otherwise recognizing your operation in making this a serviceable and successful banking house. Years of prosperous banking have been made possible only by your support. We wanted to show our appreciation in a substantial way and have, therefore, purchased of the manufacturers, the O. B. McClintock Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, including the exclusive rights for this city, a large handsome clock combined with a set of the softest and most beautiful chimes ever heard in any city of the old or new world."

THE CHIMES

"Lord, through this hour
Be Thou our guide
So by Thy power
No foot shall slide."

"Everyone who has lived within sound of the bells of Westminster is familiar with the verse given above. The origin of the carillon has never been positively established. Some writers accredited it to a Mr. Crouch, who was a pupil of Dr. Randall, Regius professor of music. This however, is disputed by other writers who accredited it to Dr. Randall's conception of the idea taken from a movement in the fifth part of the opening of 'Haendel's Symphony.' 'I know my Redeemer liveth.' The chimes were first fitted to the clock of the University church, St. Mary's the Great, in Cambridge, but were not copied until they were reproduced on a very large scale in the Victoria clock tower of the house of parliament."

"At the quarter, half and three-quarter hour, these chimes will ring out in various musical combinations. At a quarter past the hour, four strokes—Westminster; at half past the hour, eight strokes—Reveille; at three quarters past the hour, twelve strokes—Cathedral peal; and on the hour sixteen strokes—Westminster, followed by the striking of the full hour, in a clear vibrant tone. May we hope that the chimes will mean something to all our people—that they will have a message for the youngster on his way to school—a thought for the business man who hustles through his day; a solace for the old; and inspiration for all. Every day of the week the chimes will be sounding their message—the note of warning spoken in time; the note of rejoicing; the lament in time of sorrow. This chime will be all things to all men for it is going to belong not to us alone, but to men and women and children of our community."

OLDEST COLLEGE RESIDENCE BEING REPLACED BY EXTENSION BUILDING

(By Violet Short).
COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 22.—The oldest residence on the campus, a structure which for almost half a century has been the home of families connected with the College and therefore possessed an interesting history, was recently razed to make room for the new administration building of the Extension Service.

The building was erected in 1875, the material used being bricks made on the campus from campus clay, and was the first of the five houses built for the accommodation of the members of the faculty of the College on its initial opening on October 4, 1876. At the beginning of its construction only two buildings had been completed for the College—the old Main building which was destroyed by fire in 1912 and the present Gathright hall, which was then used as a mess hall. The house was placed at the beginning of the lane just south of the Main building with the succeeding four residences were in a direct line down the lane, and the street became known as Down-the-Line.

Prof. Hogg in it First.

The first family to occupy the house was that of Alexander Hogg, professor of pure mathematics later the first faculty. A few years later M. E. B. Gartner came to the College as professor of languages, and he installed his family there, and he was the first to die in the house. The house was destroyed by fire in 1912 and the present Gathright hall, which was then used as a mess hall. The house was placed at the beginning of the lane just south of the Main building with the succeeding four residences were in a direct line down the lane, and the street became known as Down-the-Line.

The next man at the head of the house was R. H. Pond of the department of plant pathology, and with him came the first tragedy. Under one of the fine old trees his body was found early one morning, death having resulted from a bullet wound, self-inflicted.

Of more recent times O. F. Chas. tain, professor of English and history, and A. C. Love, professor of civil engineering, have domiciled their families in the old house. During the last few years it has been used as an apartment house, with various families making their homes there.

The new building which will mark the site is planned to fit in among the historic old trees as the old house did, and they will live on as a land mark through the years to come.
